

NAVAL OFFICERS MUST WALK; JACK, TOO, MAYBE

President Framing New Cross-Country March—Swimming Match Proposed.

WILL OVERLOOK NONE.

It is Figured Out That a Fifty-Mile Stretch Will Be About Right for the Naval Men.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The navy department must learn to walk alone a mud road and sing "Nancy Lee" while trudging over ploughed ground. He may not like this mixture of exercise and recreation, but there is no objection. The president has decreed that naval officers must practice walking. Consequently it must be done far and wide.

While the navy thus far applies only to naval officers the plain inference is that jacks must understand how to use their legs for other purposes than merely balancing themselves on the decks of a bounding warship. The president sent a "suggestion" over to Secretary Newberry that fancy maneuvers be rigged up for all naval officers above the rank of lieutenant-commander and below that of rear-admiral. This was handed on to Admiral Pillsbury. He sent to the War Department and borrowed all the data regarding endurance and practice marches.

It is figured out that a fifty-mile stretch, to be covered in three consecutive days, will be about right for the naval men. The details are being worked out, and the formal order is expected for three or four weeks. In the mean time every officer in the ranks specified will apply for leave to join himself to sea duty and miss the cross-country walk.

The spectacle of a seaman on a horse is too much even for the president to contemplate, and there is no present intention of making the naval crowd try out the four-footed beast. A sailor on a horse would look like a pound of oleomargarine sliding down a hot stove-pipe.

The younger officers are not being overlooked. It is proposed to have a swimming bee for all those below the rank of lieutenant-commander. Water-tanks, crocks or divers will be chosen for the scene is not yet determined. All will be sacred from swimming the match. Sausage trunks will not be permitted. Older officers will not be allowed to enter the swimming tournament, because the bow-legged habit, acquired by long years of seamanship, would give them such an advantage as to constitute a sure thing.

Beware of Piano Frauds. Don't Buy a Piano Unless It Bears the Maker's Name.
It is dangerous to purchase a piano misquoting under a false name. Stenciling Pianos is the commonest form of piano fraud. It consists in labelling by stencil plates a cheap piano with a name resembling a good one, but in reality it is nothing but a cheap commercial piano manufactured for the dealer for that purpose, and in a short time the piano becomes perfectly useless.
Caution! Don't buy a so-called "highly used" second-hand piano at any price, for they are worthless—otherwise people would not part with them.
A piano delivered within city limits will be kept in tune for one year free of charge.
Upon request a representative will call and explain in detail this remarkable piano offer.
Exchange your old piano for one of these beautiful Walters Symphony Pianos. We will take your old piano in part payment and give you the privilege of paying any balance at $1 a week. Warehouses, 3d Floor.
